This will involve additional costs to you and is not included in our fee that was charged to file your bankruptcy. If you own non-homesteaded property in a county where a judgment has been entered, that judgment acts as a lien on that non-homestead real estate. Having the judgment discharged in district court will act to eliminate the lien. In those situations, it is possible that the judgment creditor objects to the discharge of judgment and the removal of the judgment would have to be litigated.

6) Client understands that certain debts cannot be discharged in bankruptcy. Client agrees that Client is still liable to repay any debt not discharged in Client's bankruptcy. Client understands that the debts listed below are common examples of the types of debts that cannot be discharged in bankruptcy. Client further understands that the list of non-dischargeable debts may be expanded by legislation or court decisions and Attorney has no control over the type of debts that may be or become non-dischargeable.

- a. Certain types of taxes, custom duties, or debts to pay taxes or custom duties.
- b. Student loans.
- c. Debts owed for spousal or child support.
- d. Debts owed to the spouse, former spouse, or child in a domestic relations proceeding.
- e. Debts arising from a previous bankruptcy wherein discharge of that particular debt was waived.
- f. Debts owed for money, property, services, extension-or-removal, or refinancing of credit, if obtained by false pretenses, or false representations, or actual fraud.
- g. Consumer debts for luxury goods obtained within ninety (90) days of the date of filing of the bankruptcy petition.
- h. Cash advances obtained within seventy (70) days of the date of the filing of the bankruptcy petition.
- i. Debts owed for fraud or defalcation while acting in a fiduciary capacity, or embezzlement or larceny.
- j. Debts owed for fines, penalties, or forfeitures payable to and for the benefit of governmental entity.
- k. Debts owed for death or personal injury arising from the operation of a motor vehicle, boat, or aircraft while intoxicated by drugs or alcohol.
- l. Client understands that individuals who file for relief under Chapter 7 or Chapter 13 of the Bankruptcy Code are subject to audits by the U.S. Trustee. If Client's case is selected for an audit, Client agrees to pay Attorney the customary hourly rate for representing Client in such audit.

7) Reaffirmation Agreements: Secured creditors, i.e., your home mortgage lender, or your vehicle loan, ARE REQUIRED TO BE, AND WILL BE LISTED AS CREDITORS in your bankruptcy. If you continue to make the payments to these lenders, you will be allowed in most circumstances to retain the collateral, i.e., the house or car. Most secured creditors want you to sign a reaffirmation agreement, which re-obligates you to pay under the terms of your original loan with them. If you do not sign this agreement, the loan is otherwise discharged in your bankruptcy, but if you wish to retain the collateral, you must continue to make the regular monthly payments to your lender. If you do sign it, you are once again legally liable to pay on the entire balance of the loan, regardless of whether you retain or lose the collateral after your bankruptcy. Often times without a reaffirmation agreement, these secured loans will show up as “included in a Chapter 7 bankruptcy discharge” on your credit report. In other words, future payments to these secured lenders may not show up on a credit report following your bankruptcy filing. Conversely, late payments won’t be reported either. With respect to mortgage accounts, not reaffirming can sometimes affect your ability to later obtain a loan modification with these lenders. This is not a legal consequence but rather a policy of the lender with no basis in the law. A case cannot be re-opened to file a reaffirmation agreement, nor do our judges believe that one is necessary in the case of real property in order for a debtor to express his or her intent to remain in the home. If you have any further questions on reaffirmation agreements, discuss them with your attorney. HELLER & THYEN, P.A. CANNOT AND WILL NOT DRAFT THE REAFFIRMATION AGREEMENTS.

8) Understanding Risks of Bankruptcy. I understand that there are inherent risks in filing for bankruptcy, including the fact that property may be liquidated (sold) by the Court to pay debts in some cases. I also understand that a new bankruptcy law is subject to different interpretations and that there are inherent risks in how the Judge and Courts will apply various provisions. Examples may include how to compute or calculate income, how and when to liquidate assets or property, what exemptions apply to protect my property, whether property may be sold to satisfy domestic support obligations, whether I qualify for a Chapter 7 or Chapter 13, whether and to what extent another states exemption law may apply to determine what property I can keep, how payments to creditors or a Chapter 13 trustee are calculated and determined, how long a case will be pending, how my good faith will be judged in filing a case, and how and to what extent my finances will be subject to an audit and examination in detail.
